SOTA Writing Retreat

“Building a Scholarly Writing Community
for Black Women”

Date: April 15-18, 2010

Site: Columbiana, AL

The purpose of the retreat is to assist SOTA members and other sisters within the academy with their writing endeavors – including dissertation, manuscripts, or articles. Based on individual research interests, sisters are placed in writing circles that consist of 3-4 other women and facilitated by a senior scholar. Participants have the responsibility of working with their writing circles and facilitators to create draft documents prior to attending the culminating retreat in April. During the intensive weekend retreat, participants complete writing and prepare presentations with the support and motivation of their writing circle members and all other symposium attendees. In sum, the weekend is a “process and product driven weekend with a networking twist.”
